

A woman with long brown hair, wearing a white sweater and black pants, is standing on an orange office chair. She is reaching up to a high shelf in a storage room, where she appears to be organizing or retrieving papers. The room is filled with white shelves containing stacks of papers, folders, and boxes. The lighting is warm and focused on the woman and the shelves she is reaching. The overall scene suggests a workplace environment where safety is a concern.

Shortcuts can lead to long falls.
